Auktionsbedingungen

Durch die Teilnahme an der Auktion werden die folgenden Bedingungen anerkannt:

1. Die Versteigerung erfolgt in Schweizer Franken. Der Zuschlag erfolgt nach dreimaligem Aufruf an den Höchstbietenden, dessen Gebot vom Auktionator (für elektronische (online) Auktionen: virtueller Auktionator) anerkannt wurde, und verpflichtet zur Annahme. Der Ausruf erfolgt in der Regel bei 80% des Schätzpreises, sofern nicht höhere Angebote vorliegen. Schriftliche Gebote haben Vorrang gegenüber telefonischen oder elektronischen Geboten. Jeder Ersteigerer verpflichtet sich persönlich für die durch ihn getätigten Käufe. Er kann nicht nachträglich geltend machen, für Rechnung Dritter gehandelt zu haben.
2. Telefonische oder schriftliche Bietaufträge (auch per E-Mail oder Fax) von nichtanwesenden Interessenten werden bis 24 Stunden vor Auktionsbeginn entgegengenommen. Elektronische Angebote über die Onlineplattform werden bis zum Zeitpunkt des Beginns der elektronischen Auktion angenommen. Sie sind unwiderruflich und verbindlich. Telefonische Bieter sind damit einverstanden, dass das Gespräch aufgezeichnet werden kann. Das Auktionshaus übernimmt keinerlei Haftung für schriftliche, elektronische und telefonische Bietaufträge.
3. Bieter werden gebeten, sich vor der Auktion zu legitimieren und anschliessend registrieren zu lassen. Das Auktionshaus kann eine Bankreferenz und/oder Sicherheiten verlangen. Es steht im Ermessen des Auktionshauses, eine Person nicht an der Auktion teilnehmen zu lassen.
4. Es steht dem Versteigerer nach seinem Ermessen frei, ein Gebot heraufzusetzen oder ohne Angabe von Gründen abzulehnen. Der Versteigerer behält sich ferner das Recht vor, Lose zu vereinigen, zu trennen, ausserhalb der Reihenfolge anzubieten oder wegzulassen bzw. von der Auktion zurückzuziehen.
5. Auf dem Zuschlagspreis ist ein Aufgeld (Provision) von 22,5% zu entrichten. Die schweizerische Mehrwertsteuer von 8,1% wird auf den Endpreis (Zuschlagspreis plus alle weiteren vom Auktionshaus dem Käufer in Rechnung gestellte Beträge) erhoben. Goldmünzen (AV) sind von der MwSt. befreit.

   Bei Ausfuhr des ersteigerten Objekts ins Ausland wird dem Käufer die MwSt. zurückerstattet, wenn er eine rechtsgültige Ausfuhrdeklaration des schweizerischen Zolls beibringt.
6. Der Gesamtpreis wird mit erfolgtem Zuschlag zur Zahlung fällig und ist vor der Aushändigung des Objekts zu bezahlen, ausser es sei vor der Auktion eine andere schriftliche Abmachung getroffen worden. Für verspätete Zahlungen wird ein Verzugszins von 1% pro Monat in Rechnung gestellt. Das Eigentum geht erst mit der vollständigen Bezahlung auf den Käufer über. In der Regel liefert NAC das ersteigerte Objekt nicht vor der Bezahlung an den Käufer aus. Eine allfällige frühere Auslieferung bewirkt ausdrücklich keinen Eigentumsübergang und ändert nichts an der Zahlungsverpflichtung des Käufers.
   Hat der Käufer nicht sofort und auch nicht innert fünf Tagen ab Erhalt einer eingeschriebenen schriftlichen Mahnung bezahlt, so ist NAC ohne weiteres und ohne weitere Anzeige berechtigt, vom Verkauf zurückzutreten.
7. Versand und Versicherung erfolgen auf Kosten und Risiko des Käufers (Ersteigerers). Im Ausland verrechnete Gebühren und Steuern gehen zulasten des Käufers (Ersteigerers). Diesem obliegt es, sich über ausländische Zoll- und Devisenvorschriften zu informieren. Das Auktionshaus übernimmt keine Haftung für allfällige Zuwiderhandlungen gegen solche Vorschriften.
8. Der Käufer verpflichtet sich, die erworbenen Waren nicht in Länder oder Gebiete zu exportieren, die wirtschaftlichen Sanktionen, Embargos oder anderen Handelsbeschränkungen unterliegen, die von der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft verhängt wurden. Darüber hinaus verpflichtet sich der Käufer, die erworbenen Waren nicht an Personen oder Einrichtungen zu übertragen oder ihnen zur Verfügung zu stellen, die von Sanktionen der Schweizerischen Eidgenossenschaft betroffen sind, und alle aktuellen Schweizer Vorschriften bezüglich Export und Sanktionen einzuhalten.
9. Alle Angaben im Katalog wurden nach bestem Wissen und Gewissen zusammengestellt.
10. Die zur Versteigerung gelangenden Objekte werden für Rechnung Dritter versteigert oder sind Eigentum des Auktionshauses. Der Käufer (Ersteigerer) hat keinen Anspruch auf Bekanntgabe des Einlieferers und ist damit einverstanden, dass das Auktionshaus auch von diesem eine Provision erhält.
11. NAC behält sich das Recht vor, eigens erstellte Fotografien oder Abbildungen der Objekte in seinen Publikationen und/oder auf seiner Website zu veröffentlichen und damit zu werben.
12. Die vorstehenden Bedingungen sind Bestandteil eines jeden einzelnen an der Auktion geschlossenen Kaufvertrags. Änderungen sind nur schriftlich gültig. Sofern Teile dieser Auktionsbedingungen der geltenden Rechtslage nicht mehr oder nicht vollständig entsprechen sollten, bleiben die übrigen Teile in ihrem Inhalt und ihrer Gültigkeit unberührt. Massgebend ist die deutsche Fassung dieser Auktionsbedingungen.
13. Die Auktion findet unter Mitwirkung des Stadtammannamtes Zürich 1 statt. Jede Haftung der mitwirkenden Behörde, des Stadtammanns, der Gemeinde oder des Staates für Handlungen des Auktionators entfällt. Das Vertragsverhältnis zwischen den Parteien untersteht in allen Teilen dem schweizerischen Recht. Erfüllungsort ist der Sitz des Auktionshauses in 8001 Zürich, und ausschliesslicher Gerichtsstand ist Zürich.

Conditions of Sale

The following terms and conditions are accepted by all persons participating in the auction:

1. Auction bidding is conducted in Swiss Francs. The highest bidder who has been acknowledged by the auctioneer when the hammer falls after the third call, has legally bought the lot (for e-auctions there will be a virtual auctioneer). Bidding usually begins at 80% of the estimate, provided no higher offers have been submitted. Written bids have priority over telephone and electronic bids. The successful bidder has committed himself personally to the purchases made. He cannot claim to have acted on behalf of a third party.
2. Absentee bidders can send bids electronically until the start of the sale. Bidders wishing to send a written bid by email, fax or participate by telephone must send their bids no later than 24 hours before the start of the auction. All bids are final and binding. Telephone bidders must agree that calls may be recorded. The auction house does not take responsibility for bidding mandates made by telephone, electronically or in writing.
3. Bidders must show proof of identification before the auction, and subsequently register. The Auction House may require a bank reference and/or guarantee. The Auction House reserves the right to deny a person from participating in the auction.
4. The auctioneer may raise or reject a bid without giving a reason. Furthermore, they have the right to combine, separate, and offer catalogue lots in a different order, as well as omit or withdraw them from the auction.
5. A commission of 22.5% will be levied on the hammer price. The Swiss value added tax (VAT) of 8.1% is payable on the final price (hammer price, plus buyer's commission and any other amounts chargeable by the Auction House to the buyer). Gold coins (AV) are exempt from VAT.

   If the purchases are exported, then the VAT will be refunded on production of a legally valid original export declaration issued by Swiss Customs.
6. Payment in Swiss Francs is due immediately upon adjudication of the lot and has to be paid with the release of the object to the Buyer, unless otherwise agreed in writing before the sale. Late payments will be subject to a monthly default interest of 1%. The ownership of a lot will not pass to the Buyer until NAC has received full payment on their account. NAC will generally not release a lot to a Buyer before payment. Earlier release of the lot does explicitly not affect its title nor the Buyer's obligation to pay.

   If the Buyer has failed to make immediate payment or within 5 days after receipt of a registered, written reminder, NAC may in its sole discretion cancel the sale of the lot.
7. Shipping and insurance are at the buyer's (successful bidder's) cost and risk. Any fees and charges payable abroad are borne by the buyer (successful bidder) who is responsible for acquiring the necessary information on any applicable customs and foreign exchange regulations. The Auction House accepts no liability for any contraventions of such regulations.
8. The Buyer undertakes not to export the purchased goods to countries or territories subject to economic sanctions, embargoes, or other trade restrictions imposed by the Swiss Confederation. Furthermore, the Buyer undertakes not to transfer or make available the purchased goods to individuals or entities that are subject to sanctions imposed by the Swiss Confederation, and to comply with all current Swiss regulations regarding export and sanctions.
9. All identifications and descriptions of the items sold in this catalogue are statements of opinion and were made in good faith.
10. The objects which come under the hammer are auctioned on behalf of a third party or are property of the Auction House. The buyer (successful bidder) has no entitlement to have the identity of the consignor disclosed to them and acknowledges that the Auction House might receive a commission from the consignor for the sale.
11. NAC reserves the right to use photographs and other representations of objects sold at auction, for promotional purposes, in its own publications and on its website.
12. The above conditions are a component of each individual contract of sale concluded at the auction. Alterations must be made in writing in order to be valid. If any parts of these Terms and Conditions should be no longer or not fully be in conformity with the valid legal situation, this shall not affect the content and validity of the remaining parts. The above-mentioned conditions are written in German, French, Italian and English; the only valid text is the German one.
13. The auction takes place under the supervision of officials of the city of Zurich (Stadtammannamt Zurich 1). Any liability of the cooperating authority, the municipality or the state for acts of the auctioneer is waived. The contractual relationship between parties is subject in all facets to Swiss law. Place of performance is the registered office of the Auction House in 8001 Zurich, and the exclusive court of jurisdiction is Zurich.

Conditions de la vente aux enchères

Du fait de la participation à la vente aux enchères, les conditions suivantes sont réputées être acceptées :

1. Les enchères sont effectuées en Francs Suisses. L'adjudication est réalisée après trois appels consécutifs du plus offrant dont l'offre a été acceptée par le commissaire-priseur et qui constitue une obligation (pour les ventes aux enchères électroniques il y aura le commissaire-priseur virtuel). La mise à prix est effectuée en règle générale à 80 %, dans la mesure où il n'y a pas d'offres disponibles et plus élevées. Les offres formulées par écrit sont prioritaires sur les offres téléphoniques ou électroniques. Chaque enchérisseur s'engage personnellement en ce qui concerne les acquisitions réalisées par ses soins. Il ne peut pas faire valoir le fait d'avoir agi pour le compte d'une tierce personne.
2. Les demandes d'enchères par téléphone ou par écrit (également par moyen électronique) pour les personnes intéressées et non présentes (ou plutôt en ligne pour les ventes aux enchères électroniques) doivent être réceptionnées jusqu'à 24 heures avant le début de la vente aux enchères. Toutes les offres sont finales et contraignantes. Les enchérisseurs par téléphone acceptent que la communication téléphonique puisse être enregistrée. La salle des ventes n'assume aucune responsabilité quant aux enchères effectuées par téléphone, électronique ou par écrit.
3. Les enchérisseurs sont priés de se légitimer avant la vente aux enchères et de se faire enregistrer à l'issue de la vente. La salle des ventes peut exiger une référence bancaire et/ou une garantie. La salle des ventes a le droit de ne pas laisser une personne participer à la vente aux enchères.
4. L'enchérisseur peut, à sa guise, surenchérir une offre ou bien la décliner sans indication de motifs. L'enchérisseur se réserve en outre le droit d'associer des lots, de les séparer, de faire des offres en dehors de l'ordre prévu ou de les laisser de côté, voire de se retirer de la vente aux enchères.
5. Une commission de 22,5% est perçue sur le prix d'adjudication. La taxe à la valeur ajoutée suisse d'un montant de 8,1 % sera perçue sur le prix définitif (prix d'adjudication plus supplément et sur tous les autres montants facturés à l'acquéreur par la salle des ventes). Les pièces de monnaie en or (AV) sont dispensées de la TVA.

   En cas d'exportation de l'objet adjugé vers l'étranger, l'acquéreur se voit restituer la TVA lorsqu'il est en mesure de présenter une déclaration d'exportation réglementaire, en bonne et due forme, des autorités douanières suisses.
6. Le prix total en francs suisses est exigible immédiatement après adjudication et doit être acquitté avant la remise de l'objet adjugé sauf si un autre accord écrit a été conclu avant la vente aux enchères. Pour les paiements effectués ultérieurement un intérêt moratoire de 1% par mois sera facturé. La transmission de la propriété à l'acquéreur a lieu seulement à paiement intégral. En général, NAC ne remets pas l'objet adjugé à l'acquéreur avant paiement. Une éventuelle livraison antérieure n'entraîne expressément aucun transfert de propriété et ne modifie en rien l'obligation de paiement de l'acheteur.
En cas que l'acquéreur n'a pas payé simultanément et non plus entre les cinq jours après réception d'un avertissement sous pli recommandé, NAC est en droit de se départir du contrat sans autre formalité et sans avis ultérieur.
7. Les frais d'envoi et d'assurance sont à charge et au risque de l'acquéreur (enchérisseur). Les taxes ou les impôts facturés à l'étranger sont à la charge de l'acquéreur (enchérisseur). Il lui incombe de s'informer au sujet des directives étrangères en matière de douane et de devises. La salle des ventes décline toute responsabilité pour les éventuelles infractions à l'encontre de ces directives.
8. L'Acheteur s'engage à ne pas exporter les biens achetés vers des pays ou territoires soumis à des sanctions économiques, des embargos ou d'autres restrictions commerciales imposées par la Confédération suisse. En outre, l'Acheteur s'engage à ne pas transférer ou mettre à disposition les biens achetés à des individus ou entités faisant l'objet de sanctions imposées par la Confédération suisse, et à respecter toutes les réglementations suisses en vigueur en matière d'exportation et de sanctions.
9. Toutes les indications mentionnées dans le catalogue sont rassemblées en toute conscience et en toute bonne foi.
10. Les objets mis aux enchères le sont pour le compte de tierces personnes ou bien sont la propriété de la salle des ventes. L'acquéreur (enchérisseur) n'a aucun droit d'obtenir communication du nom de la personne qui met en vente et se déclare en accord avec le fait que la salle des ventes perçoive une provision de cette dernière.
11. NAC se réserve le droit d'utiliser les photographes et d'autres représentations des objets vendus lors de ses ventes aux enchères à des fins promotionnelles, dans ses propres publications et sur son site Internet
12. Les présentes conditions font partie intégrante de tout contrat de vente conclu dans le cadre de la vente aux enchères. Les modifications ne sont valables que par écrit. Le fait que des parties des présentes conditions de vente aux enchères venaient à ne plus correspondre, ou du moins plus intégralement, à la situation juridique en vigueur, n'affecte en rien les autres parties, ni dans leur contenu, ni dans leur validité. La version en langue allemande constitue la référence des présentes conditions de vente aux enchères.
13. La vente se déroule sous la supervision des fonctionnaires de la ville de Zurich (Stadtammannamt Zurich 1). L'autorité coopérante, la municipalité et l'État sont exonérés de toute responsabilité pour les actes du commissaire-priseur. La relation contractuelle entre les parties en cause est soumise, dans toutes ses composantes, au droit Suisse. La compétence juridique est fixée au siège de la salle des ventes à 8001 Zurich, et le for juridique exclusif est Zurich.

Condizioni di vendita

La partecipazione all'asta comporta l'accettazione delle seguenti condizioni:

1. La valuta in cui viene condotta l'asta è il Franco Svizzero. L'aggiudicazione al miglior offerente, individuato dal banditore, avviene dopo la terza chiamata e comporta per l'aggiudicatario l'acquisto con tutti i relativi obblighi di legge. Le offerte partono generalmente dall' 80% del prezzo di stima a meno che una o più offerte d'importo maggiore siano state presentate. Le offerte scritte hanno la precedenza sulle offerte telefoniche o elettroniche. Il partecipante all'asta è personalmente responsabile per l'acquisto effettuato e non può pretendere di avere agito per conto di terzi.
2. I partecipanti all'asta non presenti in sala possono presentare offerte telefonicamente, in forma scritta, o per via elettronica fino a 24 ore prima dell'inizio dell'asta. Ogni offerta è finale e vincolante. Coloro che trasmettono la propria offerta telefonicamente, prestano il proprio consenso all'eventuale registrazione della telefonata. La casa d'asta non si assume alcun tipo di responsabilità per le offerte trasmesse in forma scritta, elettronica o telefonica.
3. Per concorrere all'asta, i partecipanti dovranno esibire un documento d'identità e registrarsi. La casa d'asta si riserva il diritto di richiedere referenze bancarie o un deposito cauzionale per permettere la partecipazione all'asta. La casa d'asta si riserva inoltre il diritto di rifiutare la partecipazione all'asta di un soggetto.
4. Il banditore d'asta ha la facoltà di aumentare o rifiutare un'offerta secondo la propria discrezionalità e senza necessità di fornire una motivazione. Il banditore si riserva inoltre il diritto di unire, separare, cambiare la sequenza prevista o di eliminare e/o ritirare dall'asta determinati lotti.
5. Al prezzo d'aggiudicazione va aggiunta una commissione del 22,5%. L'imposta svizzera sul valore aggiunto, pari attualmente al 8,1%, viene applicata sul prezzo finale (prezzo d'aggiudicazione più commissione ed ogni altro importo imputabile al compratore dalla casa d'aste). Le monete in oro (AV) sono esonerate dal pagamento dell'IVA.

   In caso d'esportazione dell'oggetto acquistato all'asta verso un paese estero, il compratore ha diritto al rimborso dell'IVA a seguito di consegna di una valida dichiarazione d'esportazione dell'ufficio doganale della Confederazione Elvetica.
6. Il pagamento del prezzo totale è dovuto al momento dell'accettazione dell'offerta e deve essere effettuato prima della consegna dell'oggetto, se non diversamente concordato per iscritto prima dell'asta. I pagamenti in ritardo saranno soggetti a un interesse dell'1% al mese. La proprietà non passerà all'acquirente fino al completo pagamento. Di norma, la NAC non consegnerà l'oggetto d'asta all'acquirente prima del pagamento. Una consegna anticipata non comporta espressamente un trasferimento di proprietà e non modifica l'obbligo di pagamento dell'acquirente. Se il compratore non dovesse effettuare il pagamento subito o entro 5 giorni dalla ricezione di una raccomandata scritta da NAC come avviso di mancato pagamento, la NAC si riserverà la facoltà di cancellare la vendita di tale lotto.
7. I costi ed il rischio della spedizione sono a carico dell'acquirente. Qualunque imposta e contributo legalmente dovuto nel paese d'esportazione è a carico dell'acquirente (compratore in sede d'asta) il quale è responsabile della conoscenza di norme vigenti in materia doganale e di valuta. La casa d'asta non si assume alcuna responsabilità nell'eventuale violazione di tali prescrizioni.
8. L'Acquirente si impegna a non esportare i beni acquistati verso Paesi o territori soggetti a sanzioni economiche, embarghi o altre restrizioni commerciali imposte dalla Confederazione Svizzera. Inoltre, l'Acquirente si impegna a non trasferire o mettere a disposizione i beni acquistati a individui o entità che sono oggetto di sanzioni imposte dalla Confederazione Svizzera, e a rispettare tutte le normative vigenti in Svizzera in materia di esportazione e sanzioni.
9. Le indicazioni e descrizioni contenute nel catalogo sono opinioni soggettive ed espresse in buona fede.
10. Gli oggetti offerti vengono messi all'asta per conto di terzi o sono di proprietà della casa d'asta. L'acquirente (compratore in sede d'asta) non ha il diritto di conoscere l'identità del consegnatario dell'oggetto e prende atto che alla casa d'asta potrebbe venir corrisposta dal consegnatario una commissione per la vendita.
11. NAC si riserva il diritto di usare fotografie e altre ripresentazioni di oggetti venduti durante l'asta, nelle proprie pubblicazioni e sul proprio sito internet per motivi promozionali.
12. Le condizioni sopra menzionate costituiscono parte integrante di ciascun contratto individuale di vendita concluso nell'asta. Eventuali modifiche saranno ritenute valide solo se fatte in forma scritta. Nel caso in cui una parte delle presenti Condizioni di Vendita non dovesse essere più totalmente conforme alle vigenti disposizioni di legge, ciò non avrà effetto sulla validità delle parti restanti. L'unica versione di testo delle Condizioni di Vendita che ha valore legale è quella in lingua tedesca.
13. L'asta si svolge sotto la supervisione dei funzionari della città di Zurigo (Stadtammannamt Zurich 1). L'autorità cooperante, il comune e lo stato sono esonerati da qualsiasi responsabilità circa le azioni del banditore. Il rapporto contrattuale fra le parti è regolato in tutti i suoi aspetti dal diritto della Confederazione Elvetica. Il luogo d'adempimento è la sede della casa d'aste a Zurigo (8001). Il foro competente è esclusivamente quello di Zurigo.

Foreword

Working on the second volume of the Traveller Collection's Central European gold coins and medals has been a genuine pleasure; when else does one have the opportunity to describe such a vast array of rarities, including a number of unique pieces? The sheer volume of rarities makes it impossible to highlight individual items here.

Many of the coins assembled by the collector between 1931 and 1939 originate from the most famous collections of the early 20th century; mention need only be made here of Philipp le Renotière von Ferrari and Waldo Newcomer. We have, of course, already written about the history and provenance of the collection in the foreword to the first part (NAC sale 162, pp. 10–11). The condition of the coins is, however, also outstanding. Of the graded coins (those minted from 1750 onwards), more than a third are in a condition that surpasses all previously graded examples of this type ('Top Pops').

Let me offer a few words of thanks. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr David Wigg-Wolf for his critical review of the manuscript, and to my former employer, Christoph Raab, for granting me access to the excellent library and card index of Dr Busso Peus Nachf. in Frankfurt am Main. The library of the Coin Cabinet at the State Museums in Berlin, my former place of work, was also of great assistance to me. Fellow researchers have willingly provided me with information on individual coins (this is noted in the notes for the relevant items).

The work on this catalogue was teamwork of the very best kind: First and foremost, I would like to thank Arturo and Giuliano Russo for the trust they have placed in me, and David Guest for his wide-ranging advice, particularly regarding the assessment of the coins' condition, which we carried out with great care using the dual-review principle. Izzy Nendick, Kira Eisenach, Claire Hallgarth and Annabel Schooling in London, as well as Yvonne Veltman in Zurich, also played a significant part in the success of this catalogue. I was always able to rely on their prompt assistance. The dedication of the NAC team is truly exceptional.
I am certain that the successful bidders for the coins from the Traveller Collection will derive no less pleasure from these extraordinary pieces than I have.

According to our records, this is the only specimen in private hands. - The mint master, Johann Conrad Richthausen, was one of the most colourful figures of his profession. From 1646 to 1648 he served as mint master in Brno (Brünn), and on 31 July 1648 he was appointed mint master in Vienna. His mint mark, a triangle within a circle, is an alchemical symbol for fire and gold. Richthausen, a favourite of Emperor Ferdinand III, was also active as an alchemist; in 1648, the Emperor is said to have carried out a transmutation of mercury into gold using a powder provided by Richthausen. In 1653, he was accused of financial irregularities, but was rehabilitated shortly afterwards and elevated to the nobility on 29 July 1653. He himself chose the title: 'Baron von Chaos'. He was exempted from paying a seigniorage and appointed Chief Mint Master of Lower and Upper Austria. Ferdinand's successor, Emperor Leopold I, dismissed Baron von Chaos from his post as Master of the Mint on 31 December 1658, but appointed him Senior Chamberlain ('Oberkammergraf') in the Upper Hungarian (now Slovak) mining towns in 1659. Upon his death in 1653, the wealthy Baron von Chaos bequeathed his estate to the Chaos Foundation ('Chaos'sche Stiftung') for Orphans.

1021 Medal (6 Ducats) undated (1658/1683), AV 38 mm, 20.50 g.

Traces of mounting, some minor marks, nearly extremely fine. 2'500

The legends on the reverse of this medal, likely created around 1670 by the Breslau-based medalist Johann Buchheim, AB OTUSQUE AD OCCASUM (inspired by the passage from Psalm 113:3) and DONEC AUFERATUR LUNA (inspired by Psalm 71:7) should probably not be interpreted, as has been done in numismatic literature, as referring to the victories over the Turks and the French, or even to the imperial coronation in Frankfurt am Main in 1658 or the coronation as King of Bohemia in 1656, but rather as a tribute to the Emperor and the significance of his Empire.

Very rare. Traces of mounting, two small scratches on obverse, otherwise extremely fine 15'000

Herinek and Hahn describe the coin as a gold strike from the half-taler dies. However, this silver coin is not known. There is good reason to believe that this obverse die, featuring the small bust, was used exclusively to strike gold coins (in denominations of 4 and 5 ducats). Two reverse variants are known for the 5-ducat coins of 1659. In addition to the coin offered here, there is also a die without the Imperial Orb and the Jewel of the Order of the Golden Fleece.

The Battle of Mogersdorf, also known as the Battle of St. Gotthard, was the most significant engagement of the Turkish War of 1663–1664. It took place on August 1, 1664, along the Raab River between Mogersdorf (now in Austria) and the Cistercian monastery of Szentgotthárd (St. Gotthard, now in Hungary) in Burgenland. The Imperial Army, led by Count Raimondo Montecuccoli and Field Marshal Leopold Wilhelm von Baden-Baden, succeeded in halting the main Ottoman force, which, under the command of Grand Vizier Köprülü Fâzıl Ahmed Pasha, was marching toward Vienna. The battle was one of the four major open-field battles of the Turkish Wars.

The second siege of Vienna by the Turks, following the one in 1529, lasted from July 14 to September 12, when an army commanded by King John III Sobieski of Poland forced the Ottoman army of Grand Vizier Kara Mustafa Pasha to retreat at the Battle of Kahlenberg. Under the command of City Commander Ernst Rüdiger von Starhemberg, the capital of the Holy Roman Empire was defended for two months against a besieging army of some 120,000 men. To relieve the city, troops of the Holy Roman Empire allied with those of Poland-Lithuania for the first time. Further support was provided by the Republic of Venice and the Papal States – This medal was struck on the orders of the Viennese mint master Matthias Mittermair von Waffenberg, who had it distributed to high-ranking officials and distinguished gentlemen.

The Mining School in Schemnitz, which was elevated to the status of a Mining Academy in 1762/1770, trained mining officials for the entire Habsburg Empire. On 4 July 1754, an order was issued to "have gold and silver medals struck for trainees who had passed their examinations with the highest marks". Bronze and pewter versions are also known to exist, though these are likely from a later period. The present specimen was struck before 1756, when the Viennese chief engraver Donner died. Most of the Schemnitz award medals were struck using dies designed by Josef Anton Toda, Donner's successor. Apart from the present specimen, the only other known example in gold is the one held in the Vienna Coin Cabinet.

The marriage of Joseph and Isabella was the result of the 'Renversement des alliances' – the reorientation of Habsburg alliances and foreign policy intended to bring an end to the traditional rivalry with their arch-enemy, France. Maria Theresa and Louis XV strengthened the Habsburgs' dynastic ties with the Bourbons. To strengthen the alliance and as an outward sign of harmony, they arranged Joseph's marriage to Isabella of Bourbon-Parma, a granddaughter of the French king. The 18-year-old Isabella, Infanta of Spain, was the eldest daughter of Duke Philip of Parma and his wife Marie Louise Élisabeth de Bourbon. She was an unusually enlightened and educated woman for her time. Her interests included philosophy, politics, religion, ethics, diplomacy, military strategy, world trade, education and upbringing, culture, and the position of women in society. Whilst Joseph adored his wife, she felt more drawn to his younger sister, Marie Christine. Isabella died of smallpox as early as 1763.

The inscription 'S PRINS' on the arm raises questions: no die-cutter or designer by the name of Prins can be identified. An interesting suggestion for an interpretation was put forward in 1979 by Peter Scharenberg (Zur Münzprägung des Grafen und späteren Fürsten Johann Josef Khevenhüller-Metsch, Mitteilungen der Österreichischen Numismatischen Gesellschaft XXI, 1979, p 18-22): He interprets the letters as part of the motto JE L'AY EMPRINS on the regalia of the Order of the Golden Fleece.

The historically documented founding of St Peter's Abbey is generally dated to the year 696. It was founded by St Rupert of Salzburg as a Benedictine monastery, or rather as the revivial of an older Christian centre. The date 582, on the other hand, is derived from older legends or local traditions, but is not considered historically certain. Although archaeological evidence points to Christian life in Salzburg as early as the 5th century, there is no reliable proof of a continuous monastic foundation dating back to 582.

We are aware of three pieces in silver, all of which are in public collections (Munich, Vienna and Berlin ex Auktion Schulthess-Rechberg 1869, no. 3311). The occasion for the minting of this undated medal remains unclear, just as the engraver of what is arguably the most beautiful medal of German Mannerism could not be identified, even though this unique piece has been the subject of numerous studies for over 200 years (Hermann Scholliner, Muthmaßliche Erklärung einer seltenen Medaille Albrecht des Fünften, Herzogs in Baiern, in: Historische Abhandlungen der königlich-baierischen Akademie der Wissenschaften 1, 1807, 239-258; Franz Ignaz Streber, Ueber einige seltene und unbekannte Schaumünzen Herzogs Albert V. aus Baiern, Eine Vorlesung gehalten in der öffentlichen Versammlung der königl. Akademie der Wissenschaften den 12. October 1814, München 1819; J. V. Kull, Die Münzen, Medaillen und Siegel Kaiser Ludwigs IV des Bayern, in: MBNG 6, 1887, p 1-40, no. 88; K. Roll, Zu den Medaillen Albrechts V. von Bayern, in: MBNG 26/27, 1908/1909, p. 46-47). On the one hand, the iconographic programme highlights the close connection between the House of Wittelsbach and the House of Habsburg; on the other hand, the seal-like design on the reverse and the mention of the last emperor from the House of Wittelsbach, Ludwig IV, the Bavarian, also reflects the line of succession of the House of Habsburg. There was hope that, should the male line of the Habsburgs die out, the Bavarian House would inherit the Habsburg legacy. The collections of the art lover Albrecht V not only formed the foundation of the Bavarian State Library and the Munich art museums, but also of the State Coin Collection in Munich. The creator of this work of art is likely to be sought among the successors of the Bavarian sculptor and medalist Hans Aesslinger (†1567), or possibly Hans Wild, who is documented in Tyrol and Augsburg in the 1560s; Georg Habich cautiously suggested Peter Weyherr (MBNG 26/27, 1908/1909, p. 49). Whether the medal was minted at the Munich mint, which closed in 1573, or at the Salzburg mint in 1576/1577 remains an open question.

The connection suggested by Wolfgang Hahn (Hahn/Hahn-Zelleke p 93, note 10) with the capture of Belgrade during the Venetian-Austrian War against the Turks is open to doubt, as the battle was still raging when the coins were minted.

On 14 January 1823, a fire destroyed the theatre, which had been built between 1811 and 1818, leaving only the foundations. During a performance, the scenery caught fire. As the water used for firefighting had frozen, King Maximilian I, who was attending the performance, ordered the brewing water from the nearby Hofbräuhaus to be seized and used to extinguish the fire. Soon, a rumour spread that beer had been used to put out the fire. The reconstruction took less than two years, and the building was reopened on 2 January 1825.

All ducats of this type bear the mint master's initials at the end of the obverse legend, but which are missing from this particular specimen. Johann Jakob Spieß last published a ducat of this type without the mint master's initials in 1768 (Brandenburgische Historische Münzbelustigungen, vol. 1, pp. 89–96). Fischer and Maué cast doubt on the existence of this variant. Here it is.

Unique. From the collection of Prince Adalbert von Preußen. About very fine 30'000

Privately purchased from J. Schulman 17.6.1936 and possibly from the Waldo Newcomer collection ('unique from the cabinet of Prince Adelbert of Hohenzollern, has been paid GBP 500.-').

This coin was first described in 1929 by Friedrich Freiherr von Schrötter in the Berliner Münzblätter (49, 1929, p. 490). It is thanks to him that we know this is a unique specimen from a princely collection which appeared on the German numismatic market and 'has, unfortunately, already found its way abroad'. Von Schrötter is aware of only one double ducat from this die pair in the Berlin Coin Cabinet, which is 'marred by the punching of letters around the armoured waist-length portrait of the Elector and is otherwise unsightly due to wear and mount marks, so that the appearance of this new, excellently preserved (sic!) strike from the same die, weighing 10 ducats, is to be welcomed with joy'. The Traveller's diary provides information about the previous owner: he was Prince Adalbert of Prussia (1884-1948), the third son of Emperor Wilhelm II, who moved from Bad Homburg to Switzerland in 1928 and temporarily adopted the name 'Count of Lingen' there.

Otherwise, it is only known to be held by the Berlin Coin Cabinet and the former collection of the Marienburg (Malbork), which is believed to have been taken to the Soviet Union as looted art in 1945. In 1809, consideration was given to reverting to the higher fineness that had applied to the Friedrich d'ors until 1771 (21 carats 9 grains instead of 21 carats 8 grains). It is highly unusual for Prussian gold coins to bear an indication of their fineness.

In 1712, Duke Friedrich II of Sachsen-Gotha acquired the coin collection of Prince Anton Günther II of Schwarzburg-Arnstadt – which contained a large number of rarities – for the enormous sum of 100,000 talers, and established a magnificently furnished coin cabinet at Friedenstein Castle. Our coin is likely to have been a gift from the Duke of Brunswick to the coin collector Friedrich II. Incidentally, the donor was Anton Günther's brother-in-law, who had been forced to sell his unique collection due to financial difficulties.

In our view, the attribution of this medal to Carl Reinhard Krüger (according to Hannig and Heise) is not certain. The overall style appears to date from a later period. The medal can be traced back to Christian Joseph Krüger (1759–1814), who still signed with the initials of his first names. This commemorative medal was subsequently retained within the family and continued to be struck, now without the initials of the first names in the signature. It cannot be determined conclusively whether this medal was made by Carl Reinhard Krüger, the son of Christian Joseph, or by Emil Krüger, who was director of the Berlin firm L. Ostermann (formerly G. Loos) from 1871 to 1893. The medals were issued to coin weight: the silver medals weighed 1/6 taler, the gold medals 5 talers.

Frankenthal was the strongest Electoral Palatinate fortress on the left bank of the Rhine. In 1622, the town was besieged by Catholic troops and completely cut off from the outside world. After some time, money ran short. Consequently, silver tableware and gold from private households and churches was used to produce emergency currency so that soldiers could continue to be paid their wages. At the end of March 1623, the town was captured by the Spanish, who were fighting on the side of the Emperor and the Catholics, and for the next decade, like the whole of the Palatinate on the left bank of the Rhine, it was placed under Spanish sequestration. Whilst silver emergency coins from Frankenthal occasionally appear on the market, the gold examples are among the greatest rarities amongst emergency and siege coins.

In 1772, Prince Karl Egon von Fürstenberg was granted permission from Empress Maria Theresa to have up to 5,000 ducats struck at the Prague mint from the gold of the Celtic coins found the previous year in the village of Podmokl (Podmokly nad Berounkou) within his Pürglitz (Křivoklát) estate in Bohemia (cf. Hoolzmair, p. 27, and E. Fiala, Der Podokler Goldfund, in: Numismatische Zeitschrift 34, 1902, p. 149-156, who estimates the total size of the Celtic hoard at just over 5,000 pieces). The inhabitants of Podmokl, who mistook the coins – which were unfamiliar to them – for brass buttons, initially divided the treasure amongst themselves. The village blacksmith was commissioned by a farmer to make shoe buckles from a large number of the buttons. It was eventually Jewish pedlars who revealed the true value of the find to the farmers. After Karl Egon I had been informed of the hoard, to which he was entitled, he had the coins collected and confiscated. He was eventually able to acquire the greater part of the treasure, more than 4,200 coins. However, it cannot be proven whether these ducats were actually made from the Celtic gold. It is also quite possible that some of Maria Theresa's ducats from the Prague Mint, bearing the date 1771, were struck from Celtic gold, as the metal had already been delivered to the mint in that year.

Ex Glendining, London sale 26.10.1938, 147 ('of the highest rarity')

Probably before 1560, but no earlier than 1553, the city of Hamburg began minting large gold coins. These were probably intended primarily as representative pieces and only secondarily as trade coins. The Portuguese 10 cruzado coins, which had been minted since 1498, served as a model. Portugal had considerable gold reserves through its colonies, which were then distributed in coin form, mainly via Flanders. The city of Hamburg was the first German mint to produce these Portugalöser coins weighing 10 ducats, initially in small numbers, probably mainly for representative purposes, as is suggested by the very scarce double Portugalöser coins weighing 20 ducats, minted only at the very beginning of Portuguese coinage up to 1577. Of these double Portugalöser, only four are known to date; three of the type minted between 1553 and 1566 are held in the public collections of Copenhagen, St. Petersburg and Hamburg (cf. for this type the single Portuguese coin in the Traveller Collection, NAC sale 162, 6 November 2025, 1148). Of the type presented here, struck between 1574 and 1577, only the specimen in the collection of the Museum für Hamburgische Geschichte remains.

The Hamburger Admiralitäts-Collegium (Hamburg Admiralty Council), known simply as Admiralität (Admiralty), was founded in 1623 with the aim of protecting Hamburg's merchant ships – particularly in the Atlantic – from pirate attacks using its own armed vessels. Over the years, its remit was continually expanded, and as a result it remained Hamburg's most important port authority until 1811. Its remit encompassed not only military duties but also judicial and administrative responsibilities, which were transferred to various other institutions during the Napoleonic era.

Johann Adolph Poppe (1727–1807) was Mayor of Hamburg from 1786 until his death. The medal forms part of the series of 'Bürgermeisterpfennige' (mayor's medals), which were struck in Hamburg upon the death of a mayor to be distributed to those attending the funeral. The silver coins, initially weighing 1/4 Taler, were distributed to schoolchildren who led the singing for the funeral procession and to the other members of the procession. The extremely rare gold coins were reserved for the mayors.

Most likely the piece from the Carl Farina collection (Adolph Hess, Frankfurt sale, 1 May 1893), lot 2684. The second piece, formerly in a private collection (from the J. V. Kull collection, Adolph Hess Nachf., Frankfurt sale 2.11.1908, lot 2772), was purchased at auction by Ernst Lejeune and is now in the Frankfurt Historical Museum. The third specimen was auctioned in 1940 (Victor Napp collection, Adolph Hess Nachf. sale 240, 30.5.1940, 277). According to our records, this coin has not been offered for sale since then.

Alfred Noss regards the coin as a farewell issue struck by the archbishop in July and August 1577, before he resigned in October to marry Antonia Wilhelmina von Arenberg and to rule his county of Isenburg-Grenzau from Arenfels Castle.

Two obverse dies are known for this moralising medal. They differ in their depiction of the buildings. Christian Winterstein (Zwei undatierte Dukaten des 18. Jahrhunderts. Versuch einer Zuordnung (Nürnberg - Neckarsulm), in: Geldgeschichtliche Nachrichten 43, 2008, pp. 196–198) has attempted to attribute the other die to the town of Neckarsulm by comparing it with historical town views. However, the depiction on the medal differs in numerous details from that on surviving copperplate engravings, though it is undoubtedly a view of a town. On our specimen, which is struck with a different obverse die, it is difficult to make out a townscape at all. Although its attribution to Nuremberg is subject to some reservation, stylistically the piece would fit well into the extensive series of medals struck in Nuremberg to mark the 200th anniversary of the Reformation.

In 1923, at the height of the period of hyperinflation following the First World War, the Nuremberg jeweller and goldsmith Josef Wild began to produce coins on which the value was stated in gold marks or ducats, equating one ducat to ten gold marks. In this way, Wild sought to give the German people a reliable measure of value once again through his Goldmark coins, rather than the worthless banknotes denominated in millions, billions and trillions. However, the coins he produced were immediately banned due to the Reichsbank's statutory monopoly on the issuance of currency.

According to documentary evidence, the city of Hamburg countermarked 1,506 Rhenish gold guilders between 1423 and 1432; a Simmern gold guilder bearing the Hamburg countermark is as yet unknown. - Stephan was the son of Count Palatine Ruprecht III (1398–1410), who, as Ruprecht of the Palatinate, was Holy Roman Emperor from 1400 to 1410. Following the Emperor's death, his four sons divided the Palatinate's possessions. Stephan received the territories around Simmern and Zweibrücken and founded the Palatinate-Simmern line. In 1431, Stephan had his right to mint coins confirmed by King Sigismund and subsequently used his mints in Simmern in the Hunsrück and Wachenheim on the Weinstraße. Of particular note is the symbol of a 'crescent moon with a face' between the mint master's feet. It has on several occasions been attributed to the von der Winterbach family of mint masters and appears, amongst other places, on coins struck at the mints of the Archbishop of Trier in Koblenz, Oberwesel and Offenbach, as well as at the royal mint in Frankfurt am Main. Hans Möller has recently expressed reservations about attributing this symbol to the von der Winterbach family, but is unable to provide a more convincing explanation (Jahrbuch für Numismatik und Geldgeschichte 64, 2014, pp. 111-175, esp. 126-129). Therefore we propose that Thielmann von der Winterbach or his brother, Vois II von der Winterbach, was the mint master in Simmern.

It was only recently identified in the exhibition catalogue marking the 450th anniversary of the Protestant churches in Regensburg: M. Angerer, P. Germann-Bauer, E.Trapp and B. Franz, 1542-1992. 450 Jahre Evangelische Kirche in Regensburg, Regensburg 1992.p. 314 (kindly provided by Prof. Dr. Hubert Emmerig, University of Vienna, on 22 July 2026). Hans Georg Bahre, a die cutter and copperplate engraver, is known to have produced several cartographic works on the topography of Regensburg.

Johann Leonhard Zöllner had only been working as a die-cutter since 1790. The die he cut, featuring a view of the town, must have broken quite early on, as suggested by the damage to the die visible on the edge of our coin. This may explain the extraordinary rarity of this ducat.

This is a hybrid strike. The reverse die was produced using a punch that was only in use until 1798; the shield is framed by a double line. From 1799 onwards, the shield-of-arms border on standard coinage consisted of a beaded line and a straight line. We were unable to find any evidence of this 'hybrid' strike in any sale.

An apparently unrecorded variant of a very rare coin type. Irregular flan, very fine, reverse better 3'000

The 1717 Reformation ducats from Weimar all bear not only the ruler's monogram but also the shield of arms on the side facing the altar cloth. Our specimen lacks this, as do the groschen. Furthermore, the die cut is much coarser and the lettering very irregular. It is hard to imagine that the dies were cut by Jeremias Balthasar Wilhelmi, who was commissioned to cut the dies in 1717. Since Christian Wermuth, from whom the Duke of Weimar also obtained coin dies, can be ruled out, it is likely that another, less skilled die-cutter was responsible for this particular piece, perhaps somewhat later, as in the case of the Saalfeld Reformation ducat (see previous lot).

Probably unique and of great numismatic significance. Good very fine 7'500

The mints of the Counts of Sayn-Wittgenstein were among the most prolific producers of poor-quality coinage in Germany. Particularly during the 'Second Kipper Period' (c. 1670–1695), vast quantities of poor-quality silver coins were produced here; these were not always recognisable as Wittgenstein products on the basis of their design and inscription, but generally imitated common foreign coin types. Our coin dates from the period shortly after the First Kipper Period (1618–1622/1623). The mint master was Johan Schmid, who was appointed to the Wittgenstein mint at Berleburg in 1624; he was the son of the mint master of the same name in Frankfurt am Main. Although he was not officially appointed until 1624, he was evidently already involved in coin production as early as 1623. In mid-1625, Schmid was accused of producing substandard gold and silver coins. The present, unpublished specimen is likely to be one such coin. Other goldgulden by Schmid are known, all of which are extremely rare, but none that dare to feature the Imperial Orb (featuring a highly unusual trefoil around the cross of the Imperial Orb) and the name of Emperor Ferdinand II on the reverse. Even though Schmid denied having minted substandard goldgulden, he was dismissed in 1625. We do not know whether he was a scapegoat or whether the Count himself was in fact behind their production.

In 1761, the Duke established a mint in Rethwisch. Georg Anton Schröder, a son of the Hanoverian mint master, was appointed as mint master and the dies were commissioned from Peter E. Geringius, who was based in Hamburg at the time. Lange (p. 328) suggests that the ducats bearing the date 1760 were still struck in Hamburg by the local mint master, Otto Heinrich Knorre. However, the Duke did not begin to exercise his right to mint until March 1761, and Grunelius also cut the dies for the talers struck in Rethwisch in 1761. We also know that in July 1761 a hundred Dutch and other ducats were procured, which were then overstruck by Schröder in Rethwisch. However, no ducats bearing the date 1761 are known to exist. Lange explains this by the withdrawal of the coins which the Duke deemed not good enough. He had the 16 coins sent to him melted down; a further 36 coins minted previously were also to be withdrawn. We suspect that the surviving ducats are precisely these coins, which, however, bear the date 1760.

The three lilies on the banner at the stern of the ship represent François-Hercule de Valois, Duke of Alençon (1555–1584), the son of King Henry II of France. Under the Treaty of Plessis-lès-Tours, concluded in 1580, he was appointed 'Protector of the Liberty of the Netherlands' and was thus effectively granted the governorship of the Duchy of Brabant. William the Silent hoped that by bringing the French on board he would have a better chance of success in the struggle for freedom against the Spanish. At the end of 1582, his troops fought against the Spanish forces led by Alessandro Farnese, the Duke of Parma.

Following the death of the long-serving master of the mint, Christian Wineke, in 1746, his widow, Ingeborg Maria Brandt, was entrusted with the minting of coins until 1749.

In the 18th century, the Swedish East India Company (Svenska Ostindiska Kompaniet) purchased large quantities of gold in China. Selling the gold in Sweden proved difficult, so there was no alternative but to have it struck into ducats. The ducats made from the Chinese gold were only minted between 1738 and 1750. The coins feature a rising sun alongside the Swedish shield of arms on the reverse.

Ex Waldo Newcomer Collection - privately purchased from J. Schulman 13.12.1936 (note in the diary: 'Unique, one of the rarest Poland coins').

This piece is thought to have served as a model for the even larger donative coin of 1621 (cf. the following lot). Two versions of the reverse are known: one by Samuel Ammon (Dutkowski 89 and 90, at the weight of 10 and 15 ducats) and one by an engraver M. S., who has not yet been satisfactorily identified (Dutkowski 91 and 92, in the weight of 10 and 15 ducats). Melchior Schirmer, who was mint master in Kłodzko (Glatz) from 1629 to 1632 and in Toruń (Thorn) from 1640 to 1643, has been suggested, rather unconvincingly, as the designer of the reverse die. However, there is no evidence that he was an engraver, nor that he was active at such an early date.

The Bohemian theologian and reformer Jan Hus preached against the abuses of the Catholic Church around a century before Martin Luther. As he refused to recant his teachings at the Council of Constance, he was burned at the stake as a heretic in 1415. According to (unsubstantiated) legend, at the stake he uttered the words: "Today you are roasting a goose, but in a hundred years a swan will rise." The swan was later interpreted as a prophecy referring to Martin Luther, who sparked the Reformation a good 100 years later. Luther himself took up this image in his writings in 1531, and it also features in the legend on the reverse side of our medal, without specifically referring to the image of the goose and the swan.

Elisabeth was the daughter of King Andrea II of Hungary and Landgravine of Thuringia. She devoted her life entirely to caring for the sick and the poor. Following the early death of her husband, she followed the Franciscan order of poverty and founded a major hospital in Marburg. Thanks to her selfless charity and numerous legends, such as the 'Miracle of the Rose', she was canonised just four years after her untimely death. The medal belongs to the series of 'Judenmedaillen' (Jew medals). The creator of the medal series, which depicts emperors, kings and saints, among others, is more likely to be found among Christian than Jewish medallists. The medals are generally thin castings and all heavily chased, with inscriptions mostly in Gothic capital letters, as in the present piece. The place of origin and the medallist are unknown, although there is some evidence to suggest a Prague goldsmith. We owe a preliminary dating of the medals to around 1600 to Ulrich Klein (cf. NAC sale 162, lot 1050 note).

Among the coins minted during Francis II Rákóczi's War of Independence, the copper 4-poltura pieces are the rarest denomination. These are likely to be trial strikes. Later silver issues are known to exist; however, a gold issue – which, like the silver issues, was probably produced around 1900 – was not known to the authors of the standard work on the coins of the War of Independence, C. Tóth and R. Kotán.

Achatius Barcsay ruled as Prince of Transylvania during one of the principality's most turbulent political crises. He came to power in 1658 after the failed Polish campaign of his predecessor, George II Rákóczi, which had been launched without the approval of the Ottoman Sultan. The campaign provoked a major Ottoman military intervention, and Barcsay was elevated to the throne with Ottoman backing as a ruler expected to restore stability and reaffirm Transylvania's loyalty to the empire. Barcsay's relationship with the Ottoman Empire was defined by political dependence rather than ideological alignment. Throughout his reign, Barcsay sought to maintain a careful balance between the Ottoman Empire and the Habsburg Monarchy. While he remained a loyal Ottoman vassal, he also attempted to preserve the principality's internal autonomy and avoid becoming merely an Ottoman governor. This balancing act proved increasingly difficult as anti-Ottoman factions within the Transylvanian nobility rallied behind János Kemény, who returned from Ottoman captivity and sought Habsburg support to claim the throne. In 1660 Barcsay abdicated under pressure in Kemény's favor, hoping to avoid civil war. However, the Ottomans rejected Kemény's election and regarded Barcsay as their legitimate client ruler. As conflict between the rival factions intensified, Barcsay became a political liability. He was captured by Kemény's supporters and executed in 1661.

There are several dies for this medal, including some on which the inscription 'Gryllo N W CIBIN 1602' appears. This is, of course, not – as stated in some auction catalogues – the engraver's signature, but a reference to the place of hardship, Sibiu, that prevailed in Transylvania during the Long Turkish War (1593–1606).
